Model United Nations Strategic Framework 2022

Delegate Recruitment

1. Foundation Overview
Introduction to PSCORE
People for Successful COrean REunification is a non-profit organization in special consultative status with the United Nations Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) since 2012. We advocate internationally and domestically with a vision to raise awareness of North Korean human rights while providing education and tutoring programs for North Korean defector students. We further address potential barriers to reunification and assist North Korean refugees to adapt to their daily life in South Korea. We are one of the most international organizations in South Korea, and our staff is comprised of both South and North Korean nationals, and interns and volunteers from countries around the world.

Since its establishment in 2006, PSCORE has long been involved in Human Rights issues in North Korea from holding street campaigns for raising awareness to writing reports and participating in UN conferences. We join the United Nations Human Rights Council (UNHRC) every year to hold side events and publish oral/written statements. As the United Nations advocates international cooperation for human rights improvement in North Korea, PSCORE also provides other North Korean human rights organizations the opportunity to present at the side events with UNHRC. Furthermore, PSCORE has been holding events with other international human rights NGOs as well, such as Amnesty International, Human Rights Watch, and International Society for Human Rights.

(PSCORE stands for 'People for Successful COrean REunification'; we adopted the original spelling 'Corea' from the prior era to Japanese colonization and the division of Korea to further emphasize its goal of a reunited peninsula.)

2. About Model UNSF

What is Model UNSF?
Model United Nations Strategic Framework (Model UNSF) is a multinational youth-led conference that PSCORE is organizing virtually in January 2022 to raise awareness of the issues surrounding North Korea in reference to the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). As to put the main objectives of the conference in practice - which are to raise awareness of the North Korean issues and the making of a Strategic Framework between the United Nations and the Democratic People's Republic of Korea (DPRK) - the participants will act upon the international cooperation and understanding of the UN policies in a various form, such as the organizing members, moderators, and delegates. Ultimately, the Model UNSF conference aims to create a new Strategic Framework to be achieved between the UN and the DPRK by the end of year 2022.

Model UNSF must be separated from the commonly known Model United Nations conference, although it takes a similar structure. Participants who are attending as delegates will each represent the Resident Coordinator, 6 UN bodies (UNICEF, WFP, FAO, WHO, UNDP, UNFPA), the DPRK, and the Republic of Korea instead of the entire UN member states. Each delegate will aim to produce the next Strategic Framework based on the following focus groups:

1) Food and Nutrition Security (SDG 2,9)
2) Social Development Services (SDG 3,4,6)
3) Resilience and Sustainability (SDG 7,11,12,13,15)
4) Data and Humans Rights Development (SDG 16,17)

For this occasion, PSCORE intends to invite passionate individuals from both Korean and international backgrounds to apply as delegates for the upcoming conference.

As delegates, you will be responsible for representing your assigned country accurately. This means doing prior research about your country's or organisation's stance on North Korean development. Delegates will also be responsible for collectively writing and agreeing on the new strategic framework for cooperation between the UN and the DPRK.
